US TARIFF EFFECT

Russian Urals discounts in India triple since Aug

Cargoes for Dec delivery currently trade at discounts of $5-$6 a barrel

REUTERS
Moscow, November 21

DISCOUNTS FOR RUSSIAN flagship Urals crude in Indian ports have tripled since August against dated Brent as US sanctions drive key buyers away from Moscow-supplied oil, three sources involved in the trade said.

The US last month imposed its toughest sanctions yet on Russia's energy sector, targeting oil majors Lukoil and Rosneft. Friday marks the deadline for companies to wind down all dealings with the two producers.

Urals crude has been a mainstay feedstock for Indian refiners since 2023, when Moscow redirected flows to Asia after the European Union banned Russian energy. But supplies to India are set to fall sharply as most refiners suspend purchases, traders said.

OIL POLITICS

■ US sanctions have driven key buyers away from Moscow-supplied oil

■ Last month, US had imposed toughest curbs yet on Russia's energy sector, targeting oil majors

■ Urals crude has been a mainstay feedstock for Indian refiners since 2023

■ But supplies to India set to fall sharply as most refiners suspend purchases

■ Reliance Industries stopped importing Russian crude into its Jamnagar complex effective November 20

Reliance Industries, the nation's largest private refiner, stopped importing Russian crude into its Jamnagar complex in Gujarat effective November 20, a company spokesperson said on Thursday.

Despite the sanctions, Russia's oil exports from western ports remain near peak levels, supported by OPEC+ output allowances and domestic refinery outages caused by Ukrainian drone strikes.

Urals cargoes for December delivery are trading at discounts of $5-$6 a barrel to dated Brent, about three times wider than the $1-$2 seen in August, according to traders and Reuters calculations.

The price for Russian oil delivered to Indian ports is typically set on a delivered-ex-ship basis, meaning the price excludes transport costs and other charges borne by the seller.

Urals crude free-on-board at Russian ports is currently estimated at around $20 per barrel, depending on cargo and supplier, traders said. Most shipments are handled by Russia-linked "shadow fleet" vessels, allowing Moscow to retain part of the margin from the price differential. Freight rates have held steady despite sanctions on vessels. An Aframax tanker carrying about 700,000 barrels from Baltic ports costs around $7.5 million for a one-way voyage, while a Suezmax trip runs $8-$8.5 million, traders said.

Households allocating bigger share of monthly bill to non-food spending

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 21

HOUSEHOLDS ARE NOW allocating a greater share of household consumption expenditure to non-food spending on consumables and services, and durable goods, according to a working paper of the Economic Advisory Council to the Prime Minister (EAC-PM).

EAC-PM in a working paper titled 'Changes in Durable Goods Ownership in India:

Analysis of the Household Consumption Expenditure Survey 2011-12 and 2023-24' on Friday noted that the share of the monthly per capita expenditure (MPCE) spent on durables has risen in both rural and urban areas, with the rural share slightly surpassing that of urban households in many states.

EAC-PM noted the share of monthly per capita expenditure spent on durables has risen in rural, urban areas

Further, in absolute values (rupees), spending has increased across all states and sectors, with higher absolute expenditure in urban households. "Consequently, a greater share of household consumption expenditure is now non-food spending on consumables and services, and durable goods. Consumables and services are the largest component of household spending in urban areas," the paper said.

It said mobile phone ownership has increased across the board. "There is near universal access for mobiles, reflecting the improved inter-connectivity and access to communication for nearly the entire population," the report said.

Driven by affordable and faster network connectivity, the paper said mobiles are emerging as the instrument of choice for information.

CAG launches pan-India audit on MSME ease of doing biz

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA
New Delhi, November 21

THE COMPTROLLER AND Auditor General of India has initiated an audit of reforms implemented by states and UTs to improve the ease of doing business for the micro, small and medium enterprise (MSME) sector.

The pan-India horizontal audit cutting across states aims to evaluate how effectively states and Union Territories have implemented reforms to improve the business environment for MSMEs — one of India's most critical engines of economic growth.

"The audit will assess whether MSMEs receive efficient, transparent, and timely services from public institutions. It will evaluate the progress made in simplifying regulations, digitising processes, and decriminalising minor offences that affect businesses," Pravir Pandey, Additional Deputy CAG (Railways), said during an interaction.

This initiative aligns with national priorities such as Viksit Bharat @2047 and Business Reform Action Plan 2024 spearheaded by the Department of Promotion of Industries and Internal Trade, he said. Earlier this year, Comptroller and Auditor General of India Sanjay K Murthy had emphasised the strategic shift in CAG's approach, moving beyond traditional financial and compliance checks to evaluating outcomes and the effectiveness of reforms.

Giving details, Pandey said the audit will assess whether MSMEs receive efficient, transparent, and timely services from public institutions.

It will evaluate the progress made in simplifying regulations, digitising processes, and decriminalising minor offences that affect businesses.

The audit is being coordinated by Manish Kumar, principal accountant general, West Bengal.
