SWISS introduces the next-generation air travel experience

Dear Mrs. Upasna,

Just a few days ago, we introduced you to Allegris, the new Lufthansa long-haul product in all travel classes. Today, we are pleased to give you a first glimpse of the new SWISS travel experience on long-haul flights starting 2025: SWISS Senses.

Roll the film!

With SWISS Senses, your customers will be able to tailor their travel even more closely to their own individual needs. For the first time, SWISS will be offering a suite concept in SWISS First and parts of SWISS Business.

In all travel classes, SWISS guests can look forward to a new state-of-the-art inflight entertainment system with larger screens and convenient connection options for their own personal devices. A new Human-Centric Lighting also helps passengers reduce the effects of jet lag.

Our entirely redesigned cabins incorporate a timeless color scheme and top-quality materials that all draw their inspiration from Switzerland's unique nature and architecture. The warm and muted tones such as claret, anthracite and beige convey a particular sense of warmth and well-being.

SWISS Senses is part of the larges Group, which is investing a total of every stage of the journey.
Best Regards,
