Traveling from India

Only stranded British Nationals, foreign nationals transiting through the UK or their spouses, whether accompanying or otherwise or Indian nationals holding a valid UK visa and destined for the UK or Seamen of foreign nationalities; Seamen holding Indian passports subject to clearance from the Indian Ministry of Shipping will be permitted to travel from India to the UK.

Passengers will be only checked for their temperature at the entrance to the departure terminal while exiting India.

Entry into UK

A mandatory 14-day self-isolation period is in place for all arrivals (resident and non-resident) into the UK, with the exception of those arriving from the current list of countries on the UK travel corridor list of exemptions.

Travellers MUST:

- All customers arriving must complete a Travel Locator form, regardless of where you have travelled from. You must complete this form before you arrive in the UK. You cannot submit the form until 48 hours before you're due to arrive in the UK.
- All customers should visit the government Border Control website at www.gov.uk/uk-border-control before travelling to the UK.

Customers that do not complete the form before arriving in the UK may be subject to a fine, and non-residents may be denied entry upon arrival.

Customers that are connecting in transit through the UK are exempt from the 14-day quarantine period. The full list of exemptions can be found here

Temperature screening will be in place for all customers before boarding the flight.

As a reminder, IATA accredited Travel Agents are required to follow IATA standards for Flight Disruption which includes asking each passenger whether they wish to have their contact details provided to Virgin Atlantic, and other airlines in the itinerary, so that we are able to contact them in the event of flight disruption. Customers who choose not to provide their contact details may not receive information relating to flight disruption.

In order to ensure our mutual travellers are well informed, we ask that all passenger contact details are up to date within the booking in line with IATA Resolution 830d.
